

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An information reproducing apparatus for reproducing audio information and multiple still picture information units in a slide show reproduction. If a command to select a still picture from among multiple still pictures, a reproduction position is determined on the basis of a reproduction start time point of a still picture information unit corresponding to the selected still picture, and then the audio information and the selected still picture is immediately reproduced from the determined reproduction position.

10